THE PALACE OF HAPPINESS AND SUFFERING

*The palace of Happiness and Suffering has two doors.
One is on the Right and the other one is on the Left;
Both doors can be opened with one celestial key;
Humans lost it and locked themselves in hate rift;*

*Like hostile crabs humans pulled one another into abyss,
A few prophets of directions brought ladders and light,
When they saw face to face sickness, old age and death,
They left the comforts, entered the wilderness depth.*

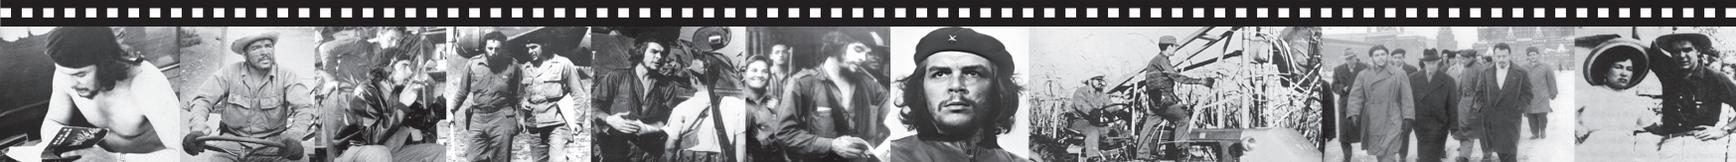

Suffering

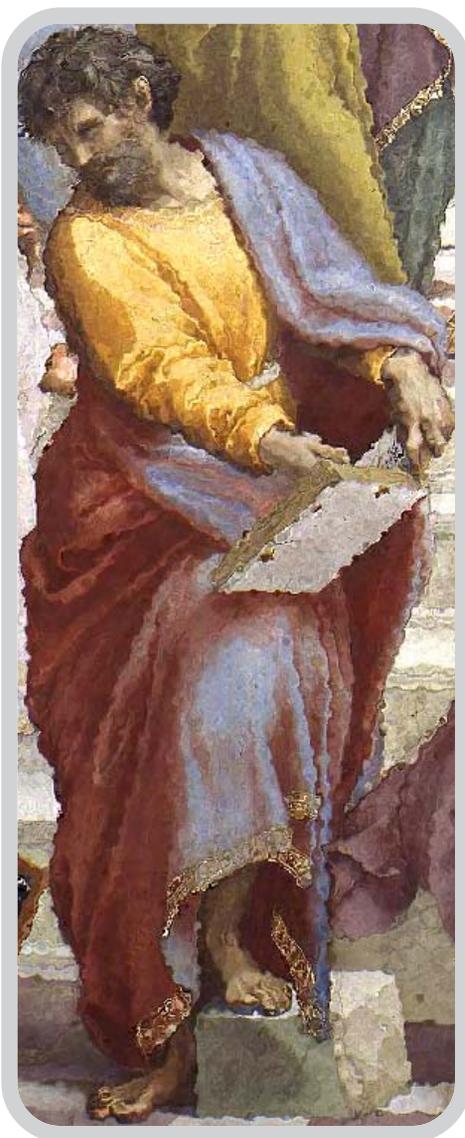

*Is it pain, sorrow, unpleasantness or threat of harm?
In the land of sentience do you measure it with tear storm?
Is pain inevitable and suffering an optional qualia quality?
If the mirror is in smoke how to bring back its lucidity?*

*Can the mental tranquility be brought to everybody in strife?
How can one develop wintriness to the vicissitudes of life?
Where is the road link to cross from aponia to ataraxia zone?
What Noble truths shall deliver one from the suffering cone?*

*Instead of key, humans found violence as the chosen eye,
The architects of money bled the innocents and poor dry;
It is said for every five hundred years a prophet is born,
Humanity looks at them with awe and bewildered concern;*

*Near the altar of persecution the prophets are put to test,
Under a tree or on cross or biting bullets they do the best.*

Parmenides

1. WHY IS THERE ANYTHING AT ALL?

Some fourteen billion years ago they say
At extremely high density and in lofty heat
A big-bang sang a song of uni- verse
Heralding an ever expanding Universe

On a plank scale quarks, hadrons, neutrinos
And leptons, evolved into photons, neutrons,
Plasma with nuclei and electrons and atoms,
Darkness was there like pitch black bottoms;

Milky Way and constellations and the making
Of stars and galaxies, planets and solar system
Four and half billion years ago a raw Sun smiled,
On earth, moon and on other grim wanderers;

May be when meteors roared and hit the earth,
Life sprang up with a whimper in primordial hearth

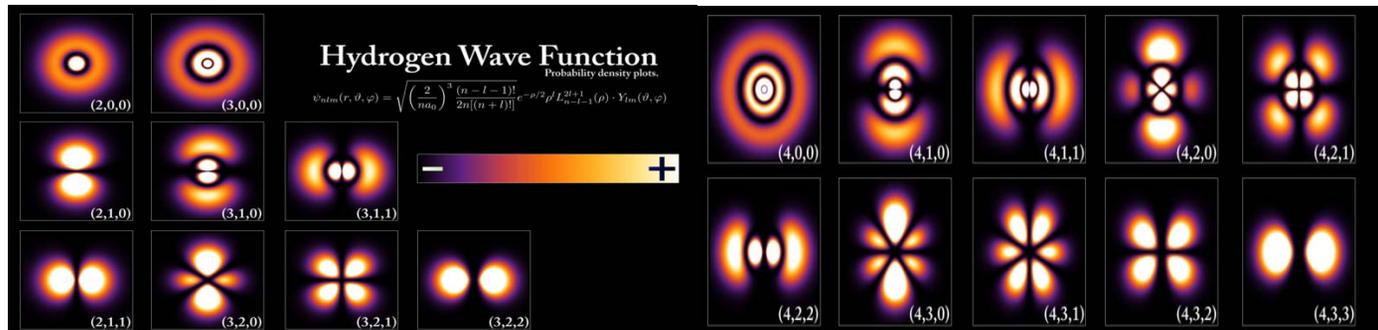

2. THE GRAND DESIGN

Atoms and living cells and in between virion,
 Is it Nature's design or God's grandeur vision?
 How can a docile chemical acquire a living vehicle?
 And run amuck in a killing spree in a cell's cubicle?

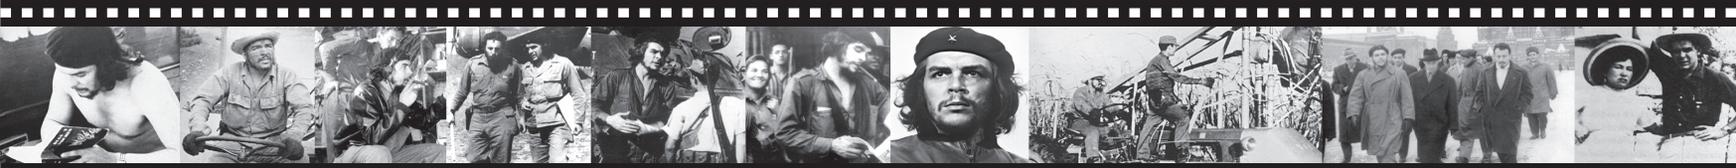

From virus to plants, animals, birds and humans,
 Evolution did it play a definite role on time lawns?
 When continents started drifting to present stage,
 Did ice-ages dictate the laws of dominant page?

Ten thousand years of human history is known,
 In parts and rest is anybody's guess or overblown;
 Migration to greener pastures is so common
 Like fish, birds and butterflies in annual marathon;

From Africa did humans spread all over the world?
 Or big-bang made them scatter like fireflies hurled?

4. WHERE THE CRADLES WERE ROCKED..

Natufians in Levant, and people of Fertile Crescent,
In the Indo- Gangetic plain, in North China precinct,
At Andean shore and the Mesoamerican Gulf coast,
Civilizations rocked and rolled with riches to boast;

Egypt, Sindhu, China, Sumerian, Akkad, Babylonian,
Hittites, Pueblo people, Assyrians, Greek and Roman,
Achaemenid, Helenian, Maurya and Gupta empires,
Ups and downs of thrones and crowns in ice and fires;

Zarathustra, Mahavir Jina, Gautama Buddha,
Confucius, Tao, Mozi, Zou yan, Shen Nong, Longzi ,
Thales, Anaximander, Pythagoras, Heraclitus,
Empedocles, Sophists, Socrates, Plato, and Aristotle;

Then came a child, walking on the sea to a cross,
And after him the last prophet of the God in a flash;

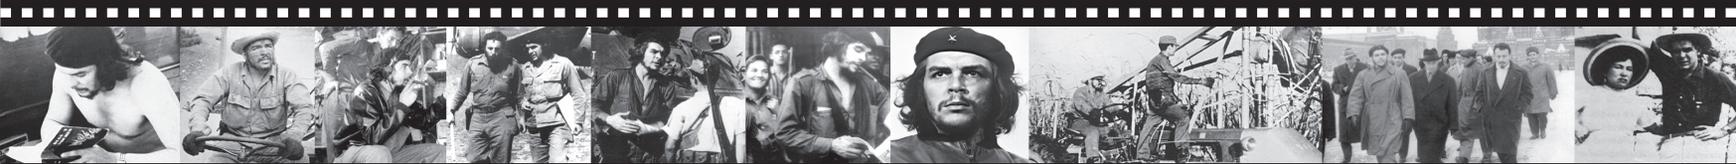

Medes and Persians at eastern stairs of the Apadana, Persepolis

5. THE GAZE OF EXPLORERS

Again all eyes of Europe were on Indian subcontinent,
 The mysteries and spice, philosophy and riches fount;
 Silk route was dangerous with killers waiting on mount,
 The alternate route was sea with hazards so imminent;

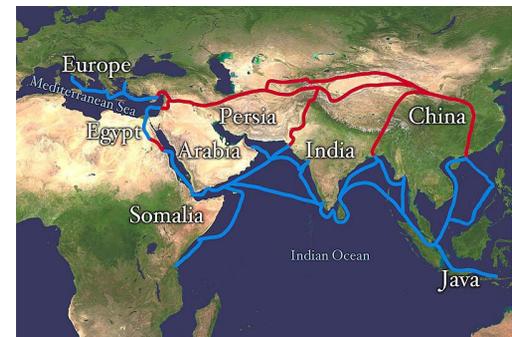

Kings showing interest in naval trade and probing strain,
 Portuguese and Spanish explorers searched in acceleration,
 Vasco da Gama, Columbus, Magellan compassed in elation,
 Treaty of Tordesillas marked a line for Portuguese and Spain

Instead of the elusive India they rediscovered new world,
 Columbian Exchange brought people and pestilence whirl,
 Natives were almost eliminated in superior fire power twirl,
 The surfaced conquistadors set South America unfurled;

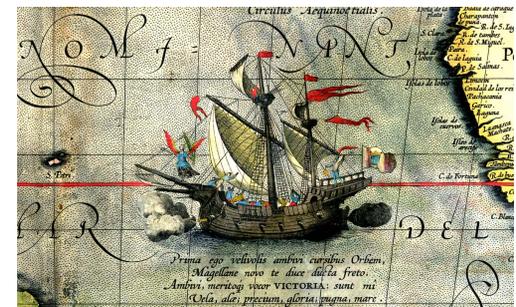

Spanish Empire took over alien land for God, glory and gold,
 Two Empires- Aztecs and Incas perished under Spanish hold

7. RIO DE LA PLATA

The Silver River in the confluence was shining hoary,
Somewhere the soul of Juan Diaz de Solis was hovering,
Aleixo Garcia looted sizeable silver booty from Incas,
His Guarani soldiers killed him, spared his mestizo son;

Inspired by Garcia, Sebastian Cabot was on the lookout,
He abandoned his mutinied officers on a deserted island,
Went on exploring the White King legend in the estuary,
He failed but established curio in the legendary territory;

In Cerro Rico de Potosi in Bolivia is the silver mountain,
Eight million miners died in the shining hill that eats men,
The Spanish Empire got its Royal Fifth to rise and shine,
Mercury used to extract Silver from ore killed men in mine;

Latin Argentum became the name of Terra Argentina,
The silver river sang melodies of a mystic concertina.

9. THE FIRST WORLD WAR

The war to end all wars in fact generated more wars,
One of the deadliest conflicts in history left many scars,
Millions of people died from the war and its aftermath,
Spanish Flu decimated multitudes swelling death math.

Once the greatest empires, then, ceased to exist,
Revolutions and uprisings broke the dictators' fist,
Big Four began their Big Brothers dominant attitude,
Hurt in the defeated nations, changed their altitude;

Latin America was neutral except Brazil in its support,
In the European Theatre America joined the British fort,
Mexican Revolution was to divert America's attention,
Thunderstorms and lightning were seen in the horizon;

Aliadofilos and germanofilos studied the war with care,
Many sensed the growing tentacles of America, in scare.

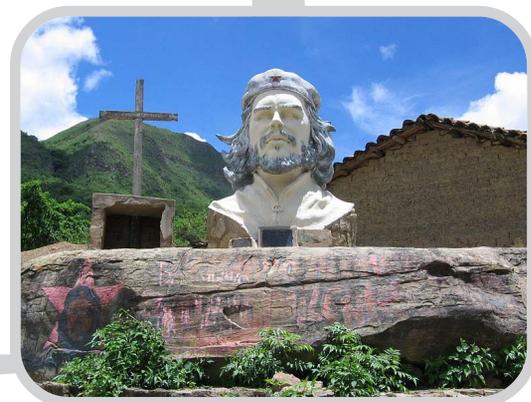

OCTOBER 9, 1967- MONDAY

A fierce cyclone struck the Orissa shores of India,
An American ship near Alaska sank in freezing sea,
At the schoolhouse in the village of La Higuera,
A Bolivian sergeant raised his semi-automatic rifle;

The squall arrived sans caveat shortly before noon,
Twenty foot-high waves hit the Panoceanic Faith,
The heart of Sergeant Mario Teran was fortified,
To enact a scene of battle on a wheezing tower

Before and after storm there walks weird silence;
After swallowing a few ships the sea looks placid;
There a man faced death- -'I know you have come
To kill me; Shoot, coward! You are going to kill a man!'-

Bullets are mere instruments; cut hands are mute alibis, Hasta la Victoria Siempre! Patria o Muerte, Venceremos!

1. JUNE 14, 1928 –THURSDAY

Always shrouded in mystery their birth dates
Do not reveal themselves to Fates or in spates;
Zoroaster, Buddha, Mahavir, Jesus of Nazareth,
Muhammad and many other prophets of worth;

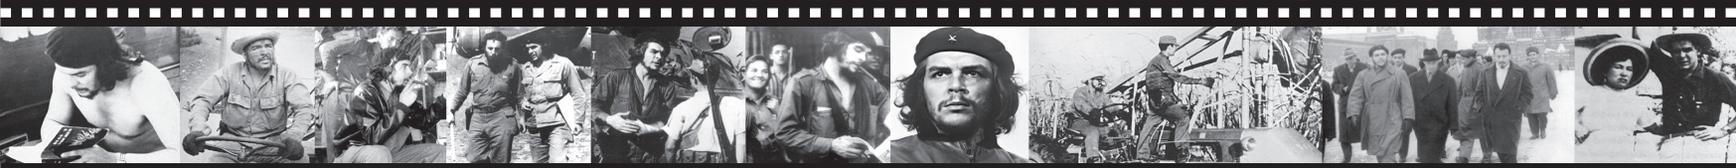

They saw suffering all-round mainly man made,
They saw greed and fatality in the webs shade,
They saw endless tears and fear in the down side,
They saw ravenous hunger and thirst in death ride;

To protect innocents and to censure the wicked
The common goodness incarnates in seer hood,
They bear the bluntness of the traditional rood,
Either like warriors or sages, preach truth naked

Ernestito was born in the port city of Rosario,
In the province of Santa fe in Argentina patio;

2. THE LAND OF MATE DRINK

Ernesto Guevara Lynch and Celia de la Serna Y Liosa
The proud parents with Spanish -Irish descent causa;
Their Mate plantation in the precincts of Parana ribera,
In the jungles of Argentina that has rich fauna and flora;

Marsh deer, monkeys, armadillos, yaguarete, onzas, otters,
Yacare caimans, parrots, macaws, snakes, iguanas and tapirs,
Lived among quebracho, samuu, caatinga, lapachos, curupay
Carandy palms, palo santo holy wood, tacuaras, and urunday;

Especially the yerba mate plant of holly family rink,
Guarani, Tupi tribal drink that became national drink
Served in calabash vessel with dried leaves in hot water,
A nice mate plantation was the estate of Guevara master.

In Puerto Caraguatay they lived in the house la calesita, Mbarigui, gnats, uras, and piques disturbed their siesta.

4. DECADA INFAME

The U.S stock market crashed on Black Friday,
The economy earth trembled like huge stack hay,
The rumblings were felt in remote Latin lofty sky,
Made Chile, Peru, Bolivia, Brazil, Cuba, Argentina cry

In the land of Silver, electoral fraud shook the nation,
Mass migration to cities created villas miseria notion,
'Propaganda by the deed' ignited bombings, shootouts,
U.S President Herbert Hoover and Yrigoyen felt its bouts;

Hipolito Yrigoyen was replaced by Jose Felix Uriburu,
The execution of Severino Di Giovanni gave capability,
To Agustin P. Justo with infamous Roca-Runciman Treaty,
Led to Enzo Bordabehere's murder and De la Terre's suicide;

While Right wing fascists and leftist radicals clashed in grouse, Guevara senior's Accion Argentina supported the Allied house.

6. GROOMING A BOY CALLED GUEVARA

Sleep was luxury
Especially when the choking devil attacks..
All of a sudden you wheeze for a mouthful of air
The room reverberates with screeches
And the pillow, mattress, bed, blanket shudders
Like a fragile plant in the grip of a fierce storm,
You pant for breath with mouth open,
An unholy prayer rips theology into shreds,
You realize, nobody can rescue you except yourself..

Mother's tears, father's palpitation,
Inhalers, and crouching into all four
Takes time to calm the flapping chest,
When words fail whole body becomes a sign language
With superhuman effort when you spit out
A thick sticky piece of phlegm
The warmth returns and the facial blue disappears
It is the victory of red!

There is an infinite sigh that is palpable
In the worried faces all around
And the sweet sleep smiles
And hugs like a cherished dream;

Guevara

For a child with severe asthma,
The world shrinks,
Cold water and weather are forbidden zones,
Yet I enjoyed swimming, golf, shooting and football,
Of course chess and cycling..

And when you shift places and houses so often
You feel like a gypsy
And you own the whole world,
Villa Nydias become 'vive como quieras'
When parents are wonderful thinkers,
You can 'do as you please'.

Birthday parties, guitar, canasta plays, ping pong,
Swimming, barbeques, riding, excursions....
When your house is like youth club
And you don't have a penchant for music or dance
You get two left feet at the right step..
But Horse riders have their ways of impressing girls..
All charms obey the sweet indolent chat...

Between the four walls, in a room of warmth,
One can read million pages,
Chess, poetry and football,
Loneliness chases imagination and hones you into a 'Fuser'
Neruda's surrealistic but passionate love lines,
Keats sensual odes, Machado's poetic verses,

7. DRESS REHEARSAL FOR THE WORLD WAR II

Once the world leader
The conqueror of the seas and the new world,
Lost its regal shine with the rise of peasants and poor,
Republicans with anarchists fought against nationalists
Soviet Union and Mexico rooted for the Republicans,
Fascist Italy and Nazi Germany supported Nationalists.
The King Alfonso XIII with defunct throne
From exile he supported nationalists of Francoise Franco;

The Whole Spain was split into two rival factions,
Five hundred thousand people died in this civil war,
Dubbed variously as class struggle, a war of religion,
A struggle between revolution and counter revolution,
A fight between dictatorship and republican democracy,
A war between fascism and communism,
Where Spain was the stage for the dress rehearsal
Exhibiting the signs of Second World War in clear vision;

Its repercussions can be heard in the distant Argentine.
Guevara house gave asylum to many refugees from Spain
Senior Guevara supported Allies and worked for them,
Argentina President Castillo was pro- German in his theme.

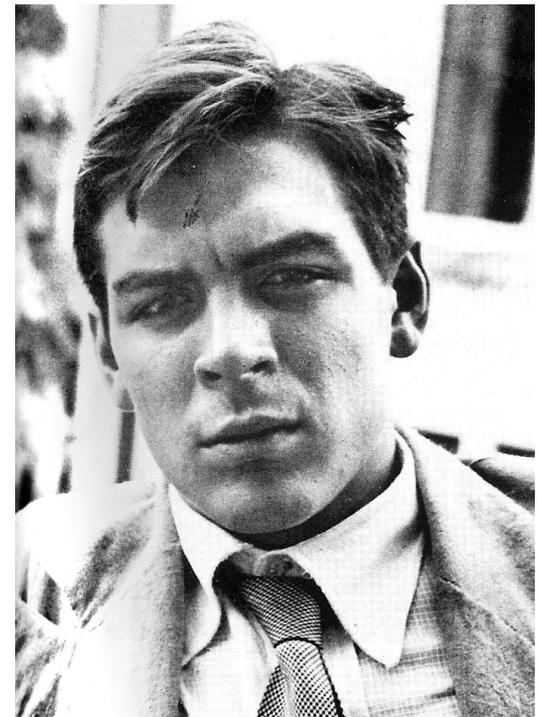

9. THOSE SCHOOL DAYS

At the age of nine he attended the school,
With a poor attendance record but he was cool,
Hyperactive, restless, always in his own world,
Good at history, geography and natural sciences,
But no interest in drawing, music and gymnastics;

To have the children's higher education in comfort,
Family moved from Alta Gracia to Nueva Cordoba town,
With the arrival of the fifth and last child Juan Martin,
The Guevara family was complete and happy in its port.

The death of his paternal grandmother moved him,
May be it was the surgery for his mother's breast cancer
Guevara enrolled in faculty of Medicine in Buenos Aires,
With Dr. Pisani an allergy specialist he did some research,

Exempted from compulsory National Military Service,
He said- 'my shitty lungs have done a thing useful for me'-
In those days of Peronism there roamed descamisados,
Our Ernesto Guevara was in the company of medicos.

When Guevara one day picked up a leg,
Wrapped up in newspapers but its toes were visible,
That made the other passengers jump in their seats,
A few laughs it created in his young medico gallery;

He looked at the lungs and the air tubes,
He studied the dead body,
If this was a body that belonged to a lunatic,
How different his brain it is from a sane person's brain?
If this was a body of an asthmatic patient,
Can I find any clue in his airfields?

I don't find mind, emotions or feelings here,
May be they go die and dry along with the life's vitality;
Medical sciences made me realize the dynamics of life,
Can I understand these inequities in the society?

If dissecting a dead body gives a road map of life,
Why not I go dissecting a land, filled with people
And observe the permutations and combinations
That makes a society with so many hidden intrigues!

Why poverty chokes people like asthma in winter cold?
Like a medic or farmer who removes the diseased clod,
To protect the rest, can I find the root cause in this society?
Yes. Studying a cadaver is like studying a dying human moiety.

12. A BICYCLE RECONNAISSANCE -2

Hanging onto Lorries to save energy and often pedaling, Sometimes with engine working, at times hitch-hiking,
Reached Leones and near Villa Maria his bicycle broke,
Tired to core, he slept by the roadside like a log bloke,

At Cordoba, he spent time with Granado brethren,
After effectively facing a racy stream in downpour rain,
He took leave and reached San Francisco del Chanar,
Where Alberto Granado was working in a hospital near,

Greeted by the six meters sky-scraping candelabra cacti,
On the way to Santiago del Estero, admired their beauty,
Staying in police stations and hospitals to save peso dew,
He enjoyed the warmth of people and his first interview;

May be he was planning his destiny in his mind diary,
Every minute he was on the road, was beyond any theory;
At Tucuman he was greeted by one Alfred Jingle line tramp,
Keeping the naive Guevara upfront the hobo walked on ramp-

14. PERONARGENTINA

Juan Peron hoisted three flags on a Justicial pole,
Social justice, economic independence
And political sovereignty as the ultimate goal,
Rejecting both capitalism and communism,
But respected the rise of corporatism as a whole;

Like the engineer bird that makes a mud house,
From the scratch he wished to build the nation,
Eva Peron his charming wife was by his side,
She campaigned for the rights of migrant workers,
With populism the love birds built Peronism nest,

With Rainbow Tour she upheld peronism worldwide,
Evita! Evita! La Santa Peronista! roared descamisados,
La Gran Puta- a manipulative harlot – groaned enemies,
A crab was consuming her inside, at thirty three she died;
As a Spiritual leader she lives in people's hearts sanctified;

During these Rainbow times
Another love story was brewing,
Ernesto Guevara a medico met
The affluent Chichina Ferreyra;
Two different worlds-
A rainbow bridge of love?

15. ANGUISH- THE ONLY CERTAINTY

When you place fear, distress, anxiety and pain,
In a mortar and grind them with a heavy pestle,
Adding tears sweat and blood in an endless rain,
The surrealistic anguish flows with infinite rustle;

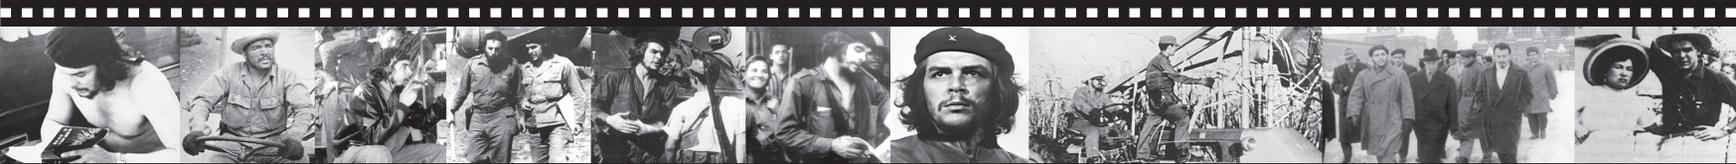

When mortar was his heart and mind was the pestle,
Guevara looked for guidance in no thistle and rustle,
Ibsen, Pascal, Sartre, Gandhi, Nehru's discovery bustle,
He found some certainties in the vast uncertainty whistle

- 'To live is to battle the demons in the heart and brain,
To write is to preside at judgment day over one's terrain' -
With Ibsen and Pascal he pondered over certainty train,
- 'As our reason is upset by the fickleness of facade drain' -

Sartre said- the prisoner's dream is guard's spirituality',
- 'Non-violence is the first article of my faith' - said Gandhi,
- 'Great causes and little men go ill together' - wrote Nehru,
Guevara reflected them in his Angustia story in sense true;

16. LOVE IS CHICHINA FRAGRANCE

Ferreyras may be from the areas of Spain's iron mines,
Rich and famous in the Land of Silver as Cordoba shines,
Race car drivers, Trans Amazon travelers, pilots and riders,
Farm house with polo ground, swimming pool and horses,
Highly cultured and they were a cut above the Guevaras,
In that comfy household Chichina grew up as a princess;

With fluctuating fortunes and Bohemian style of living,
Lower middle class family with free thinkers in surviving,
A Mate farm, frequent shifting of towns and residence,
For the sake of children's health with small providence,
Highly cultured and considered natives as their equals,
In that tranquil home Ernesto grew up as a traveler prince.

When fragrance meets sincerity fire-works are natural,
Two young hearts when synchronize their beats univocal,
Love was in the air, dreams took them to mysterious lands,
In a deserted beach the wind was writing tunes on the sands,
His head on her lap was saying be a part of her warm world,
But the inner voice was like a roaring sea with depth unfurled;

18. TWO TRAMPS, A DOG AND A LOVE AFFAIR (MOTOR CYCLE DIARIES- II)

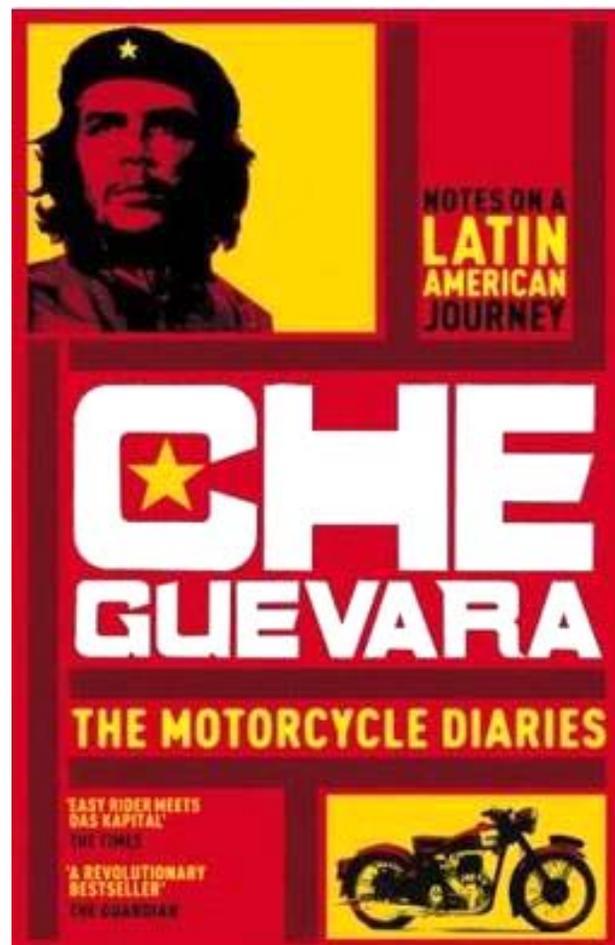

From Buenos Aires they glided through Palermo,
Ernesto found a puppy in a pet shop with charm,
Named it –Come Back- to present it as a souvenir,
To his heart-throb Chichina, as a mark with veneer;

And the dog was uncomfortable and sick in the trip,
With cat's whiskers it saved its life on dusty road strip,
It is a miracle it reached Chichina in Miramar still alive,
And its new mistress welcomed Come Back to the hive;

Under the starry sky, in the warmth of her lap,
A deserted beach replays the songs of ancient lovers,
The entire universe drifts rhythmically by, nonstop,
Tying the wanderer to a love nest, then the ocean roars;

Leaving the heart with Chichina and Come Back for sure,
His feet moved in a dynamic passion away from allure;
The duo reached Necochea, where Tamargo, a colleague,
Of Alberto, practicing in the style of neo bourgeois league;

Marriages changes men, housewives shuns the drifter folk,
Travelers experience crashes; after rejuvenating the bike,
From Bahia Blanca they were cruising on Medanos dunes,
Ernesto at the helm the mighty one crashed in nine tunes;

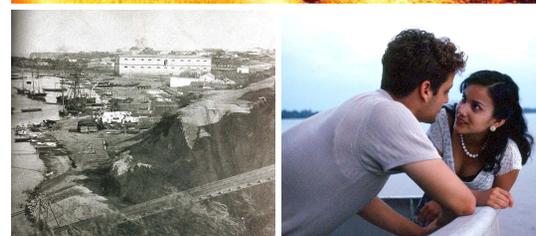

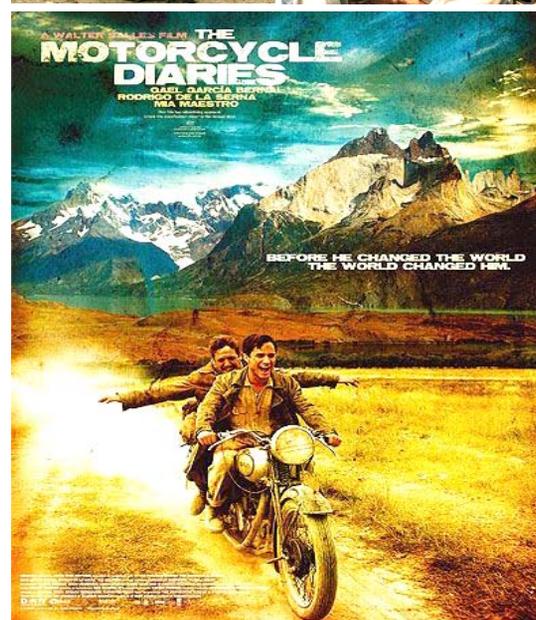

19. THE FLU, THE REST AND THE REVOLVER (MOTOR CYCLE DIARIES- III)

With a scorched wound on his foot,
And a down pour drenching them en route,
They took shelter at a ranch that night,
And proceeded to Choele Choel in twilight;

At Benjamin Zorilla railway station,
The flu knocked Ernesto with moderation,
A course of penicillin and several days stay
And the doctor's orders made him fit for the way;

On the way to Piedra del Aguila,
The mighty one's handle bar broke at a pothole,
After a few needed repairs
They were on the way to San Martin de los Andes;

On the way they were having crackers and Mate,
When a curious man stealthily mentioned robbers,
Ernesto took his revolver and shot a duck dead,
And that man left in a hurry, briskly shaking his head;

20. A LOVING HUG FROM YOUR SON (MOTOR CYCLE DIARIES- IV)

En route to Bariloche, in the foothills of Andes,
Mama I write you this letter of my travel's bliss,
I had flu and penicillin, a few problems on road,
And a few thoughts about Chichina's love load;

Write me soon to allay my fears about home, please
And I can pass through the unknown lands in peace;
On the seven lakes road the duo traveled further,
The monotonous journey irritated them a bit rather;

At the northern shore of Lake Nahuel Huapi,
A rumor was on float about a puma on prowl,
Ernesto's revolver by mistake shot a house dog,
That approached them in the sinister night bog;

There was a sudden storm that stalled their ride,
Ernesto received an incredible letter from Chichina,
-Now, I feel my great roots unearth, free and wide,-
A swirl of thoughts and emotions ended with no pain;

At crossroads a dilemma often stalls a tearful dream,
At foothills a mountain caresses a running stream,
Rest stops are necessary to go yonder into future,
A dream or stream needs time to run with nature;

22. CHILEAN HOT AND COLD CHILL OUT (MOTOR CYCLE DIARIES- VI)

From San Martin de los Andes
They hitchhiked to Temuco in Chile,
The mighty one was a pale shadow of its past,
With a few gurgles and chokes,
It threw the duo on road and about to explode,
The chassis was in four pieces,
And they reached Lautaro to get the bike fixed;

The two went for Tango,
A few drinks and dances ignited the inner urges,
Ernesto took a lead of misguided flirt,
The Indian lady's husband lunged with a missile,
A disaster was averted when Alberto intervened
And both ran away from the ruckus scene.

After another accident on the downhill road,
It was the ascent to Malleco La Poderosa did quit;
From Cullipulli to the town of Los Angeles
They carried the body of the bike on a lorry.
While they were resting at a fire station,
They assisted the firemen in extinguishing a fire
Ernesto saved a kitten from the burning house
And was applauded by all for his daring act;

At Santiago they said good bye to the mighty one,
Alberto was heartbroken; sang elegy in silent tone;

24. UNDER THE TALLEST CHIMNEY

(MOTOR CYCLE DIARIES- VIII)

From Antofagasta port to Chuquicamata they hitched a ride,
At Baquedano they met an impoverished communist couple,
The plights of the Chilean miners melt their young hearts,
The hospitality of the police superintendent was memorable,
The open pit copper mine at Chuquicamata was the largest;

A metal tipped wooden spear one can throw to claim copper,
Or it was the limit of the land of the Chucos- Chuquicamata,
American managers treated the Araucanian miners shabbily,
When Ernesto climbed the tallest chimney in South America,
He understood the paradoxes of life in the civilization simile;

At Empresa Salitrera de Toco, played football with navies;
After visiting Rica Aventura and Prosperidad nitrate plants,
They hitched a ride on a lorry with alfalfa load to Laguna,
From Iquique to Arica they traveled on Seven Pampas road,
Thirty eight days they enjoyed Chilean bounty at every stop.

Mina de Chuquicamata, Calama, Chile, 2016-02-01

26. THE VENGEANCE OF VIRACOCOCHA (MOTOR CYCLE DIARIES- X)

On May 21, 1950 a terrible earthquake rattled Peru,
The Roman Catholic Cathedral near Viracocha temple,
The Jesuit church on the Temple of the Serpent,
The convent on the House of the Sun virgins,
Santo Domingo Monastery on Sun and Moon temples,
Lost their towers like a pack of cards in that trembles,
Natives looked at it as the curse of the mighty Viracocha!

Francisco Franco Bahamonde was a Caudillo in action,
In the days of Red Terror and White Terror's reaction,
The tidal waves were evident in the colonial section,
Though Latin American countries got their sovereignty,
Native population was reduced to minimal quantity,
In countries like Peru the fear of white race was reality,
And the oppression was evident in the sinews of society.

With General Franco's assistance the Cathedral was up,
One of the largest cathedral bells rang again in makeup,
Ernesto and Alberto attended the inaugural ceremony,
Spanish Ambassador expected Spanish National Anthem,
But the band played the anthem of Spanish Republic,
The Ambassador was aghast; it was fun to see his visage,
Ernesto laughed- It is the vengeance of Tupac Amaru

28. ON THE WAY TO LEPROSARIUM (MOTOR CYCLE DIARIES- XII)

Scaly disease, leprosy, or Hansen's disease,
An age old ailment even mentioned in scriptures,
G.H. Armauer Hansen's discovery of mycobacterium,
The first bacterium to be identified as causing disease,
Associated with social stigma as the scourge from gods;

Greeks called it elephantiasis graecorum and washed it,
With children or virgins blood; some used snake venom,
Scorpions, frogs, arsenic, hellebore, Anabas fish excreta,
Chaulmoogra oil with or without camphor on pro rata,
In asylums, colonies, slums leprosarias or leper hospitals,

Then came promin or dapsons that worked but toxic,
It was that area Alberto was doing his work for the sick,
From Cuzco they went to Abancay and stayed in a hospital,
They gave lectures on leprosy and asthma to the nurses,
And in that night Ernesto had a bout of severe asthma;

On the way to Huambo at Huancarama at early morning,
Ernesto had another attack, with no adrenaline at hand,
Alberto gave him calcium chloride; but the winter snake,
Like Anaconda constricted his lung tubes with life at stake,
After some heavy jiffies Ernesto got his breath at sunrise;

Leprosy

30. LIMA THE CITY OF KINGS AND COMMUNICATOR (MOTOR CYCLE DIARIES-XIV)

Lima the ancient city of oracle- Limaq,
Founded by Francisco Pizarro in 1535,
After vanquishing the Inca king Atahulpa,
Grew into a big city near river Rimaq;

In that great city Alberto and Ernesto,
Met the leprologist Dr. Hugo Pesce,
The author of 'Latitudes of Silence'-and
A communist and a follower of Mariategui,
Punished for political views by President Odria

Staying at the Hospital de Guia as his guests,
Under the angelic care of Zoraida Boluarte,
Dr. Pesce often discussing politics, philosophy,
Physiology and poetry- Cesar Vallejo with them;

Arranged them letters, Dr. Pesce El Maestro
Of introduction to leprosarium at San Pablo,
Some clothes and money and a farewell dinner,
But when asked about-'Latitudes of Silence'-
Ernesto blurted out his negative opinion
That stunned his friend Alberto with much pain.
A trait that stuck to him – never to compromise'-
And it followed him to the end, without disguise.

Dr. Hugo Pesce Pesceto

32. COLOMBIA, VENEZUELA, AND MIAMI (MOTOR CYCLE DIARIES- XVI)

Mambo- Tango went past Leticia like Noah's Ark,
Hauling it back against current was a heavy task,
A local gentleman pulled it with his canoe back,
At Leticia of Colombia there was Police check walk;

Named after Christopher Columbus as Colombia,
The most ethnically, linguistically diverse country,
Its southern most city is Leticia at Tres Fronteras,
And Bogota the capital of Colombia often in chaos;

As the visiting scientists their fame preceded them,
After a gratifying football match they left to Bogota,
A brief argument with police escalated into arrest,
From Bogota to Cucuta, San Cristobal, Barquisimeto,
Valencia they reached the Caracas city of Venezuela.

Alberto was offered a job at La Guira leprosarium,
He accepted it bursting with joy and enthusiasm,
And Ernesto longed to go home, in a cargo plane,
That stopped at Miami for a month in a repair lane.
With minimum funds he managed his stay there,
Safe and sound he returned home in Buenos Aires;

34. HERE GOES A SOLDIER OF THE AMERICAS

Ernesto completed his backlog in a short time,
-‘This is Doctor Guevara de la Serna speaking’-
A phone call to his mother was a thrilling mime,
With Calica Ferrer he said-‘get ready for hiking’.

At the railway station it was a sort of big farewell,
Ernesto looked like a soldier of the Latin America,
Calica was in his best demeanor with regal spell,
Their destination was north Argentina’s La Quiaca;

It was fun travelling with native Indian- cholos,
Sharing stews, chicken, empanadas on board,
And offering pastries, bonbons au chocolates,
Time flew in festive moods with that hoard;

Mario Salduna, Raul Tisera at Cordoba, were waiting,
With one roast chicken and a few bottles of wine;
The joy was infinite; the bye byes are exhilarating,
With relaxed minds they reached La Quaica at sunshine;

At an altitude of 3442 meters, desert looked stunning,
Near Bolivia border, Ernesto’s lungs went screeching,
Calica carried him to a nearby lodging; kept him warm,
After recovery Ernesto taught him the adrenalin charm;

35. THE COLOR GREEN HAS BEEN BANNED

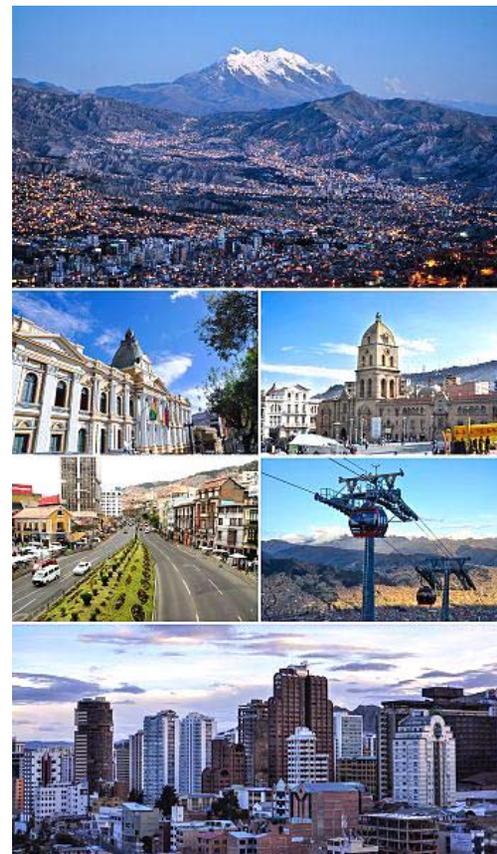

Such monotonous scenery in the shades of grey,
La Paz- our lady of peace -was depressing in a way,
Native Indians were scared of whites it seemed,
The pale color of fear was palpable and seamed;

Aymaras called it Chuqi Yapu or Chuquiago,
The highest capital city in the world -La Paz,
Founded by Alfonso de Mendoza at Incan Laza,
Revolution changed its colonial heritage at a go;

The fight was between latifundios and campesinos,
Large estates gunning against the peasant farmers,
Bolivian rulers supporting the workers with piri-piri guns,
Local land lords pointed their machine guns at villagers

In the hospitality of the exiled Argentines Nougues, Calica and Guevara extended their stay at La Paza,
The night club of El Gallo de Oro was the nerve centre,
Where politicians, land lords, mine owners hobnobbed

With heads of revolution – a second seat of government;
Then Calica met this Venezuelan colonel Ramirez in a bar,
Putting a stop to their celibacy- boys met girls- frequent,
Their chastity belt began to shrink with voice eloquent

36. THE SCHIZOPHRENIC EXISTENCE

In between reality and fantasy,
The life's pendulum oscillates,
In between silence and violence,
The panic sparks and scintillates,
In between Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde
The strange shadow proliferates,
In between the voices and tears,
The road to utopia evaporates;

Calica Ferrer and Ernesto Guevara,
Standing at the reality cross roads,
Looked at society's highs and lows,
The one who works gets all the blows
Where the children of the native soil,
Reduced to low grade and have to toil,
Whereas the conquerors descendents,
Live like gods forgetting antecedents;

With Dr. Molina's fine recommendation,
They visited Bolsa Negra tungsten mine,
The air was still chill in the reforms drill,
Fruits of revolution yet to reach the people;
During the twilight zones of changing guards,
People walk to and fro in sane and insane worlds

39. AUTOCRATS, DICTATORS, TYRANTS

Vozhd, Chief, El Supremo, Perpetuo Dictator,
Fuhrer, El Jefe. Guide, Duce, Vodca, conducator,
Marsal, El Caudillo, Naczeinik Panstwa, Adipati, Forer,
Poglavnik, Nemzetvezeto, Arighos, Udheheqsi, Leider;

What's in a name? They are all new Cesars and Czars,
With prosaic speaking, manipulate the crowd bazaars,
Often building a cult personality around their position,
With iron grip they choke the media and any opposition;

After the collapse of the great empires and kingdoms,
New prophets and preachers stirred the mind domes,
After the demise of Colonialism came freedom hands,
Local warriors became the rulers of the liberated lands;

But, natives of the soil and slaves from distant sands,
Reduced to the animal lives, began to rebel in bands,
After the Second World War It was Cold War schism,
America's corporatism vied with Russia's communism;

Under Big Brother's umbrella, bananas were republics,
Governments collapsed like a pack of cards in quick clicks,
In Latin and Central America, puppets were dumb rulers,
Revolutionaries walked with alacrity in the way of martyrs;

Historical Totalitarian Leaders

40. THE BORDERS OF POLITICS

Movimiento Nacionalista Revolucionario won in Bolivia,
 Yet Latin America was controlled by the Big Brother USA,
 Gustavo Rojas Pinilla in Columbia, Fulgencio Batista in Cuba
 Alfredo in Paraguay, Marcos Perez- Jiminez in Venezuela,

Papa Doc in Haiti, Anastasio Tacho Somoza in Nicaragua,
 Manuel Odria in Peru, Juan Domingo Peron in Argentina,
 Started carriers in humble ways but power is aphrodisiac,
 United Fruits or Dollars speak many things in greed mosaic;

Life is a bipolar existence in between birth and death,
 Lake Titicaca's experience was telling them some truth,
 Ernesto's brief romances with Chichina and Martha Pinilla,
 Taught him the ways of Aristocrat and oligarch women;

Calica and Ernesto started from the Lake to Old Mountain,
 In the frontier from Bolivia to Peru the guards were a pain,
 Confiscating the communist literature, they let them pass,
 From Puno to Cuzco they got the tickets in second class;

Banana Republics

42. MACHU PICCHU- THE OLD MOUNTAIN

The policeman invited them to a picanteria,
Where the hottest chilies numb the taste-buds,
Even the leftover soups return to the hotpot,
And comeback fresh in the fiery red scoops;

In the museums they found the little statue,
Ernesto collected at Isla de Sol was genuine,
To that Tunyan image Ernesto named Martha,
The Bolivian girl who stole his fluttering heart;

An Argentine woman helped with camp gear,
But exchanged their pesos at unfavorable rate,
With that money they reached Machu Picchu,
And the scenery was just amazingly spectacular
Dubbed by some as the 'Lost city of the Incas'
Hiram Bingham brought it into the lime-light;

Calica and Ernesto saw the polished stone walls,
Intihuatana, Sun Temple, Three windows room,
A snake like Urubamba River winding on three sides,
The old mountain with dancing stones in earthquakes,
Ernesto wrote- ' A symbol of the past holding out
Its hand to the future- people! Reclaim your history!'-

Machu Picchu, Peru

44. ON THE SEA AND POLITICAL WAVES

The funds may be low but the spirits were high,
With the company of rats and mosquitoes sly,
Calica was tired of penury, hoped them good luck,
The debts were on ascent and their luck was bleak;

When their attempt to meet the President failed,
They sold their possessions and revised the plans,
Rojo and Valdovinos left for Panama in a cargo ship,
Calica to Quito, Ernesto and Gualo to Panama trip,
Andro stayed there to pay the debts and then slip.

On the ship Guayo of United Fruit company,
Ernesto in his spirits and Gualo with seasickness,
Reached Panama and spent some time in that city,
Then to Costa Rica's Golfita port to board Rio Grande;
Ernesto's brief flirt with Socorro, the sexy black girl
In lust alert—mas puta que las gallinas'- in a fast whirl

In San Jose of Costa Rica Ernesto met Mora- Valverde,
Juan Bosch, Romulo Betancourt, and two novelists,
Carlos Fallas (Mamita Unai); Jorge Icaza(Huasipungo);
Bosch of Dominican Republic, Romulo of Venezuela,
Became presidents of their countries in later history;

46. THE GATHERING OF POLITICAL EXILES

Amidst of political and populist reforms,
Guatemala was like united fruits divided,
Miners, farmers and natives are in benefit,
But Big Brother was watching from his pit;

Exiles from Venezuela, Peru, Nicaragua, Chile,
Gathered there observing the hot political chili;
Ernesto was in the company of Luzmilla and Hilda,
Chinese and indigenous mixed girl was Hilda Gadea;

A Peruvian exile, she, was an economist,
Ricardo Rojo introduced her to Ernesto,
The fast learner who was getting lessons,
Marxism from Professor Harold White,
Chinese Revolution from Edelberto Torres,
In a New Year's party he met Cuban exiles,
Armando Arancibia, Mario Dalmau,
Antonio Dario Lopez and Nico Lopez,
The players in Moncada Barracks attack,
In Santiago, Cuba under the leadership
Of Fidel and Raul Castro against Batista rule;

Hilda Gadea 1955

50. WE WILL BE FREE OR WE WILL BE MARTYRS

A published paper on allergy, Rojo's arrival,
A meeting with Jose Manuel Fortuny of Guatemala,
The move in relationship with Hilda Gadea,
And a part time job for Agencia Latina de Noticias,
Ernesto was on the road to revolution;

In Cuba on the occasion of general amnesty,
Raul and Fidel Castro were released under surveillance,
Batista's plan was to kill them in the streets of Havana,
But the revolutionaries slowly trickled to Mexico,
Raul Castro met Ernesto at the house of Maria Gonzalez,
A few days later Fidel Castro joined them in secret,
And a doctor joined the league of a lawyer's army.

A simple marriage with Hilda, a new home;
Meanwhile in Argentina,
Juan Peron was ousted by a military coup;
Ernesto's hatred for American imperialism
Confirmed his travels on Marxist path;
On the top of Popocatepeti, Mexico's highest volcano,
Ernesto planted small Argentine flag,
Ernesto became 'Che' in his friends circle,
On his return from United States Fidel Castro said-
-'In 1956 we will be free or we will be martyrs'-

Hilda Gadeay Che Guevara - Luna de miel - Yucatán 1955

52. GRANMA CARRIES DEADWEIGHT

A 1943 eleven and half meter launch Granma,
With twenty four capacity carried eighty two,
El Norte was in anger and the sea looked sick,
Che's asthma surfaced and took two days trek,

From the early hours of- 1956, 25th November
Seven days to reach Cuba on second December,
-'It was a shipwreck, rather than landing'- in cover,
And the enemy was waiting with more fire power;

In a sugarcane field the army fired its first shots,
-' If you surrender better for you' - Army announced,
-Aqui no se rinde nadie, carajo!' - Shouted back Camilo,
Leaving the medicines Che took cartridges box and ran,
A bullet pierced his neck and he was bleeding like rain;

Three combatants died in that encounter,
Captured, surrendered men were tortured and killed,
One of them, Nico Lopez was Che Guevara's friend,
Out of eighty two men only twenty two survived;

Batista announced the death of all the revolutionaries,
Guevara's household in Argentina was in silent tears;
On a muted New Year's Eve they received a message,
-' Dios es argentine, A big hug to you all, Tete'-

Raul - Che

54. PEOPLE HAVE THE LAST WORD

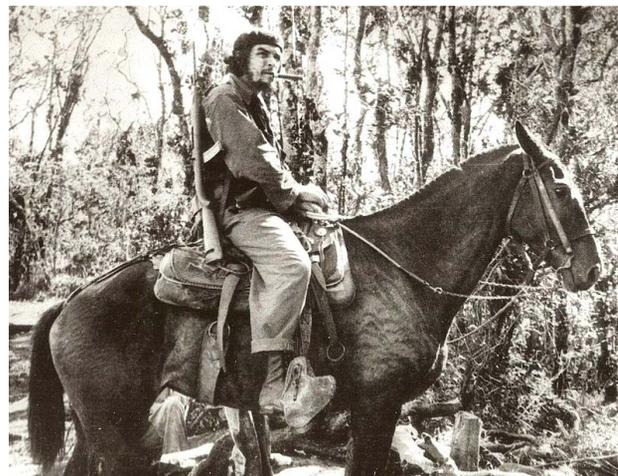

And the bullet was removed with a razor blade,
On the razor's edge they were moving in glade,
El Cuban Libre and Radio Rebelde were in upgrade,
Communication countered government's tirade;

Carlos Maria Gutierrez a reporter from Uruguay,
Interviewed Che and Fidel and published the news,
And visited the Guevara household all the way,
He saw six years of separation in their tearful views;

Masetti, from Radio El Mundo of Buenos Aires,
With so much hardship he met the lion in its lair,
Che reiterated- ' I am for Pan America, I give myself'-
The Che Guevara legend began from the news shelf;

The kidnap of five times world champion racing driver,
Juan Fangio by Faustino brought government to cover,
Che set up a school for the guerrillas at Minas del Frio,
Influenced by Mao Tse-tung's book on Guerrilla warfare;

They sang -' Quitate de la acera/mira que te tombo,
Que aqui viene el Che Guevara/ acabando con el mundo;
Here comes Che / on his way to change the world;
And the song was there in the air like a flag unfurled;

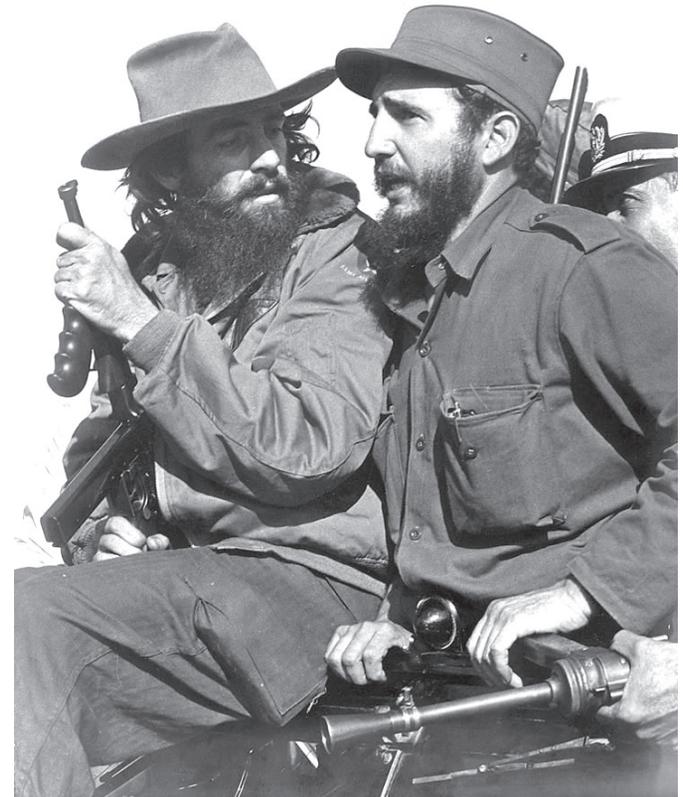

56. TRIUMPHAL ENTRY INTO HAVANA

When Santa Clara fell, Batista took to flight,
The President and his men fled in twilight,
On New Year's Eve General Cantillo proclaimed
The Supreme Court Judge Piedra as president,
But Fidel Castro vehemently opposed it,
And ordered the arrest of General Cantillo

Che and Camilo reached Havana on 3rd January,
Manuel Urrutia a liberal, assumed presidency,
On 8th January 1959 Castro arrived in Havana,
Amidst the cheers of crowd in a triumphal entry

A great one man show from the beginning,
Highest level of self-confidence in war inning,
A Marxist- Leninist and Cuban nationalist,
-'The evergreen man in CIA assassination list'-

Fidel Castro Ruz who defied North Colossus,
Survived eight USA Presidents and their plots,
Innovative attempts, 638 ways to kill Castro,-
Made Cuba a small island into a red fortress;

59. THE BRAIN DRAIN AND THE SOCIALIST RAIN

Cuba no longer a casino or a whorehouse,
Cuba no more an American stooge to douse,
Cuba no less than any country with moral pride,
Cuba no way leaves the path of revolutionary tide;

A massive exodus of elite people
Brought Cuban economy to standstill,
Agrarian reforms and literacy drive were the priority,
American companies moved out with alacrity;

USSR took the opportunity,
The Communist Block responded in unity,
USA was angry and CIA was vigorous,
A blast in Havana harbor claimed 81 lives;

And the sword and dagger game began,
USA imposed a partial trade embargo on Cuba,
Cuba nationalized all the banks and companies,
Che began his trip to socialist block,

In the Great Hall of the people
The Cuban delegation was waiting for Mao Tse Tung,
Che Guevara had a serious Asthmatic attack,
He fell on the floor with a brief cardiac arrest;

CIA

62. DAVID AND GOLIATH

-'Castro was a thorn in the flesh,
Not a dagger at the heart'- said Fulbright;
But the Colossus of North's injury was fresh,
The invasion of the Bay of Pigs was a disaster,
That led to Cuban Missiles crisis,
Over all 42 attempts were made
To liquidate Castro in Kennedy's rule;
When Kennedy was assassinated in day light,
Many suspected the invisible hand of Castro;

A few sugarcane islands
With a population of eleven million,
In an area of a 109 thousand square kilometers,
One party socialist republic- on Marxist Leninist line,
Cuba became the bugbear of A Super Power;
A conglomeration of 50 states,
With a population of 328 million,
In an area of 9.8 million square kilometers,
A Federal presidential constitutional Republic
America became the colossal Cuban enemy of North;

David in his sling put the USSR missile clones,
Goliath had his atomic sword and embargo tones;
The little boy rejected the package offer- Whoever Speaks of economic union speaks of political union'-
The fat man said- We Americans are one people,
In origin, in hope and in danger-' in a sugar coated tone;

IBM

64. HASTA LA VICTORIA SIEMPRE!

Che Guevara's last public appearance,
On the international stage was in Algiers,
On 24 February 1965, he criticized both,
The Western block and the Soviet Union;

Many Vietnams they may create in future,
Soviets had forgotten the Marxist nurture;
Unless the law of value is abolished in Toto,
Communism slowly ends in state capitalism;

When he returned to Cuba on 14th March,
Fidel, Raul, Osvaldo, Rodriguez were at Airport,
Two weeks after his return to Cuba,
Guevara dropped out of public life and comfort;

May be to chase death he went incognito?
May be to liberate Africans from colonialism?
May be extending a Cuban dream to the world?
May be he was weary of human greed for power?

Here I leave my powers, citizenship and rank,
Here I leave my wife and children to this great land;
Here I take leave from you my comrades in arms;
Hasta la Victoria Siempre! Ever on to victory!

Che Guevara incognito

66. THE LAST TRAP CALLED BOLIVIA

The persuasive powers of Fidel Castro,
Brought Che back to Cuba in secret for a brief stay
After selecting his followers the new Che
Said good bye to his family and friends;
As Adolfo Mena- Gonzalez he revisited La Paz
Thirteen years passed in between
The romance with a girl and marriage with revolution,
The memories of hotel Copacabana were still fresh,

Che was again Ramon in Bolivian jungles,
Mario Monje-Molina the Bolivian Communist leader,
When he demanded the leadership,
Che Guevara said no and they fell apart;
In his lone campaign with his fellow Cubans,
Only a few Bolivians joined the campaign,
Big Brother with his CIA eye was monitoring as a spy;
On 23rd March the guerrillas tasted the first victory,

Che sent a message to the Tricontinental conference,
-'Wherever death may surprise us, let it be welcome,
Our very action is a battle cry against imperialism,
Other men will take up our weapons when we fall
To intone our funeral dirge with the staccato sounds,
Of machine guns and new battle cries of war and victory.'-

Che in Bolivia

68. THOSE DISMEMBERED HANDS

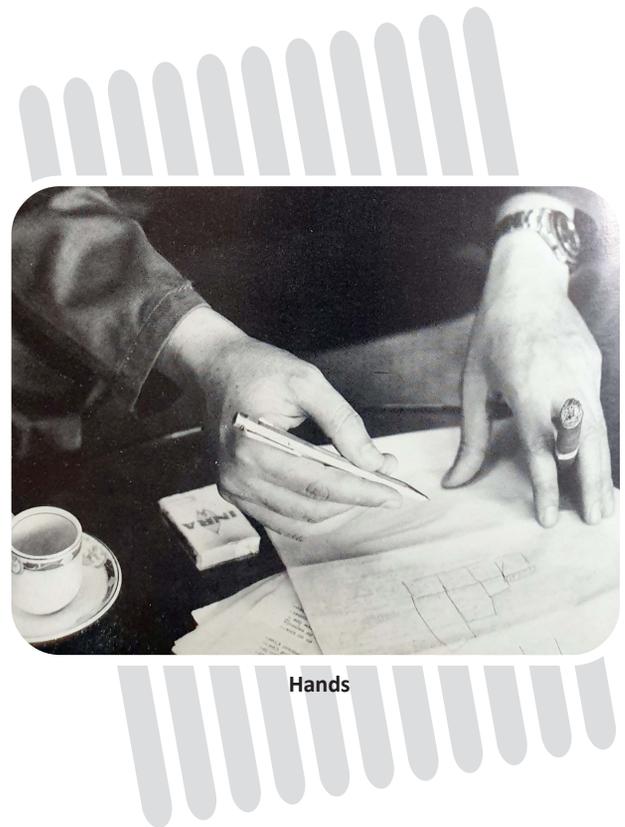

Before and after executing a man of repute,
Captors love to take photos and keep mementos,
Dead men tell no tales or argue and refute.
Guevara was a body that needed to be identified;

Lashed to the rails of a helicopter, Che's body
Reached Vallegrande- Nuestra senora de Malta,
From the school floor to a hospital concrete slab,
It was like ascension and the slab was like cross;

A military doctor dismembered Che's hands,
Sent them for finger prints to Buenos Aires,
And his body along with six other bodies
Were buried in two mass graves near airstrip;

The hands that wielded pen and gun with equal skill,
The face that mesmerized young and old into raw thrill,
The conduct and action that lacked any blemish or ill,
The Che myth survived as a wakeup call to all with shrill;

A Guerilla had no grave, death is a promise
Of rebirth and ritual of renewal cannot miss;
And Che Guevara is alive beyond borders,
With those hands to quiver the imperialistic horders

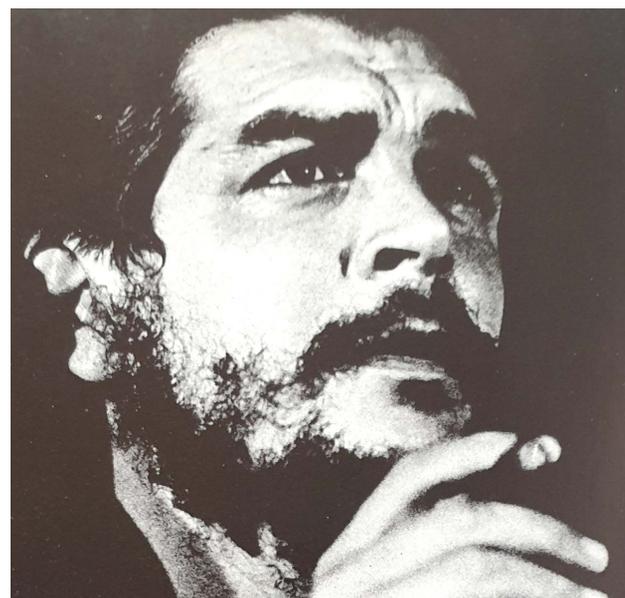

70. CHE GUEVARA! CHE GUEVARA!

Chivalrous, cheerful, charming, hot and cold macho man,
Hheavy built with a lit Havana cigar between his hot lips,
Ernesto Guevara an epitome of violent rebellion,

Galahad of the beggars or Robespierre of Revolution,
Utopian philosopher and Don Quixote of Communism,
Extrême radical and a head-strong Messiah like figure,
Vile cold blooded killer, new Garibaldi or Bolshevik devil,
Anti-capitalist with commoditized images and intellectual,
Red Robin Hood, or butcher of La Cabana, Who were you?
A man full of hatred, or the archetypal fanatical terrorist!

Chasing a dream with chastity belt on a motor cycle,
Holding his head high even in asthmatic death oracle,
El Che was a chaser and purchaser of life in death;

Gradating graciously from doctor to gaucho soldier,
Unique ubiquitous utopian ultra mundane thinker,
Ernestito to Ernesto to everlasting enchanting fighter,
Vivacious, vibrant, virile, virtuoso, victor and visionary,
Arch enemy of oppressive imperialism and slavery,
Radical thinker with raw anger against the enemy race,
A guiding star in the path of the revolutionary space!

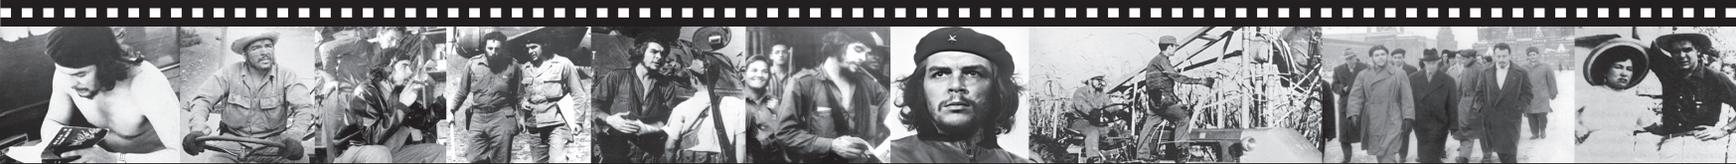

The lion left the Brexit,
Its past colonial sins were catching up fast;
Rest of the Europe has its own worries,
The Spanish pride is at low ebb;

Latin America still smarts,
Indian subcontinent has birth defects,
Africa the dictators' paradise is playing dice,
The distant Kangaroo and kiwi
Maintain the usual distress and distance;

Every country has its own Che Guevaras,
Their national heroes with bigger auras,
How he is different and relevant?
What makes him an idol and significant?

Because he propagated his ideology
Beyond borders and beyond eulogy;
He came to the world like the naked truth
And left, giving whatever he is worth!

For some he joined the pantheon of Ologun,
Some named him as the violent Buddha,
Some revered him as Jesus on the cross,
In modern temples they remember him every day.

We all know, that Che comes alive; where ever
There is oppression and indiscrimination,
He was 39 years old when he was shot
We adore his stills, unmindful his principles hot;

The violence may not be the answer or salve,
To solve the problems of the world's different zones;
But people must understand it erupts like a volcano
When human measures fail to bring the equality canoe,

Whether it is Noah's Ark or scientific spark,
Let humanity enjoy the fruits of nature,
In equal measures, otherwise the capitalist ark
Boarders, do certainly face infinite Che Guevaras!

4. CHE AND HIS FAMILY

Ernesto Guevara Lynch had a mate form,
An architect, entrepreneur and biographer,
The moral supporter, he was the family provider;

Celia de la Serna- Che's red mother,
As a communist mamma she nurtured her son well,
While Che Guevara was in Cuba
Her speeches evoked riots in Brazil or Buenos Aires;
After her separation from Senior Guevara,
Celia stayed with Susana and cherished her dream
Of visiting Paris, Rome and Florence,
Her breast cancer recurred and took her life
And her prodigal son was somewhere in Africa;

Hilda Gadea Acosta was Che's first wife,
Their girl child was Hildita
With mutual consent they divorced without strife;

Aleida March was Che's cherished love, and wife,
They had four children together
Aleida, Camilo, Celia and Ernesto;

While leaving Cuba in search of unknown destiny,
' I am not ashamed that I leave nothing material
To my children and my wife; it is that way I am happy,
I ask nothing for them. The state will provide them
With enough to live and have an education.'-
Hasta la Victoria Siempre! Patria o muerte!

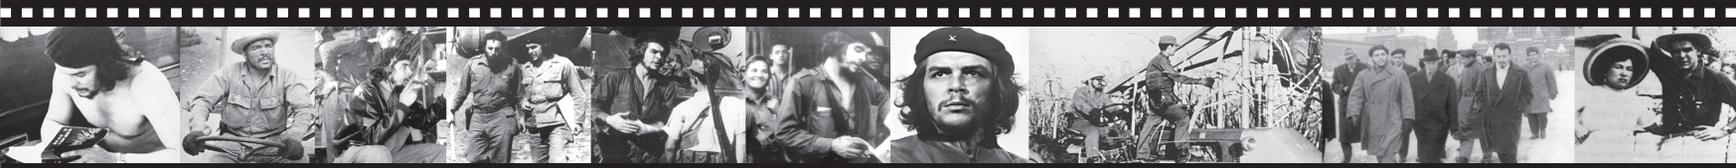

5. CHE GUEVARA

The exalted Metaphor among the simile tops,
The exclamation beyond commas and full stops,
The question mark that explodes the veiled spars,
The interjection that guides one to the red stars;

An embodiment of Revolution
A quintessence of a burning soul,
A symbol of people's resistance,
A lamp post of emancipation

When enemy guns cough smoke,
Asthma constricts breath,
Viva Che!

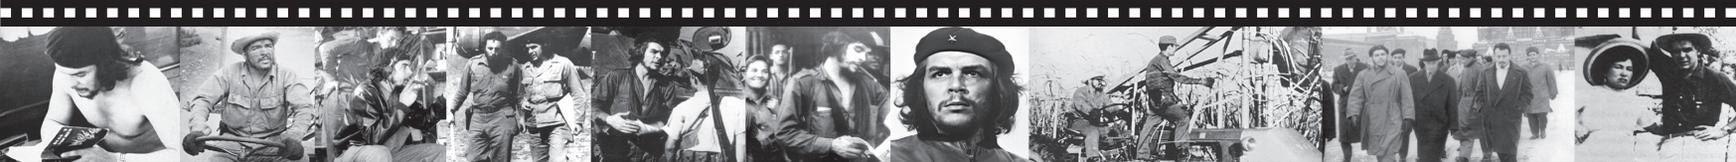

THE PALACE OF SUFFERING AND HAPPINESS

*The palace of Suffering and happiness has two doors.
One is on the Right and the other one is on the Left;
Both doors can be opened with one celestial key;
Humans found it and with love saved humanity;*

*Like faithful birds humans pulled one another from abyss,
A few prophets of directions brought ladders and light flood,
When they saw face to face love, mercy and brotherhood
They shared the skills and treasures in equal measures*

ERNESTO 'CHE' GUEVARA (1928-1967)

For all those children of revolution
The world history is 'before him and after him'
The staccato sounds of machine guns
The wheeze of Asthmatic grumbling and a poet
He wrote the truth of the day with pen and gun.

For all those who step on the unmapped road of revolution
A guide, a lamp, a star, a martyr and a secular saint
Is guerilla warfare a romantic myth? Or a transit to be a legend?
Five thousand dollars for his eyes and hands
A fair reward probably for the rangers but what a price!

For all those who practice unconditional renunciation
The home is where they can fight the revolution
The path is where fire and blood floods the battle-line
Like an underground current when they explode into a great geyser
Caesars of imperialism shiver in their boots!

For all those who understood and walked with him
'El Che' the Argentine, he is, the revolutionary doctor and soldier
Eighty-two men and the fiery prophet of the dawn Fidel Castro
When they marched as 'Granma' into the sugarcane fields
Fifteen survived the fierce battle and in defeat they saw victory
Pessimism, mazamorra and perseverance and a lot of guerilla victories
After the fall of Santa Clara, Batista fled and Cuba liberated

CHE GUEVARA QUOTES

1. "In a revolution, one triumphs or dies."
2. "To accomplish much, you must first lose everything."
3. "We have no right to believe that freedom can be won without a struggle."
4. "I don't care if I fall, as long as someone else picks up my gun and keeps on shooting."
5. "If you tremble with indignation at every injustice, then you are a comrade of mine."
6. "Words that do not match deeds are unimportant."
7. "One must endure without losing tenderness."
8. "Above all, try to be able to feel deeply any injustice committed against any person in any part of the world."
9. "Let the world change you, and you can change the world."
10. "If you can find ways without any obstacles, it probably leads nowhere."
11. "The life of a single human being is worth a million times more than all the property of the richest man on earth."
12. "Be realistic, demand the impossible!"
13. "The only passion that guides me is for the truth. I look at everything from this point of view."
14. "You can live by your own rules."
15. "The best form of saying is being."
16. "Study hard so that you can master technology, which allows us to master nature."
17. "Every person has the truth in his heart."
18. "The revolution is not an apple that falls when it is ripe. You have to make it fall."
19. "Silence is argument carried out by other means."
20. "At the risk of seeming ridiculous, let me say that a great feeling of love guides a true revolutionary. "
21. "Cruel leaders are replaced only to have new leaders turn cruel."

NOTES (Wiki)

1. The questions pertaining to “why there is anything at all?” or, “why there is something rather than nothing” has been raised or commented on by philosophers including Gottfried Wilhelm Leibniz, Ludwig Wittgenstein, and Martin Heidegger – who called it “the fundamental question of metaphysics”. The question is posed comprehensively, rather than concerning the existence of anything specific such as the universe or multiverse, the Big Bang, mathematical laws, physical laws, time, consciousness, or God. It can be seen as an open metaphysical question.
2. The Grand Design is a popular-science book written by physicists Stephen Hawking and Leonard Mlodinow and published by Bantam Books in 2010. The book examines the history of scientific knowledge about the universe and explains eleven-dimensional M-theory. The authors of the book point out that a Unified Field Theory (a theory, based on an early model of the universe, proposed by Albert Einstein and other physicists) may not exist. It argues that invoking God is not necessary to explain the origins of the universe, and that the Big Bang is a consequence of the laws of physics alone.
3. The English word civilization comes from the 16th-century French civilisé (“civilized”), from Latin civilis (“civil”), related to civis (“citizen”) and civitas (“city”). The fundamental treatise is Norbert Elias’s The Civilizing Process (1939), which traces social mores from medieval courtly society to the Early Modern period. In The Philosophy of Civilization (1923), Albert Schweitzer outlines two opinions: one purely material and the other material and ethical. He said that the world crisis was from humanity losing the ethical idea of civilization, “the sum total of all progress made by man in every sphere of action and from every point of view in so far as the progress helps towards the spiritual perfecting of individuals as the progress of all progress”
4. A cradle of civilization is a location where civilization is understood to have independently emerged. The Fertile Crescent (Mesopotamia and Ancient Egypt) and Ancient India are believed to be the earliest, while Ancient China emerged somewhat later. The extent to which there was significant influence between the early civilizations of the Near East and those of East Asia (Far East) is disputed. Scholars accept the fact that the civilizations of Mesoamerica, those that mainly existed in modern-day Mexico, and the civilization in Norte Chico, a region in the north-central coastal region of Peru, emerged independently from those in the Old World.
5. The Age of Discovery, or the Age of Exploration (sometimes also, particularly regionally, Age of Contact or Contact Period), is an informal and loosely defined term for the early modern period approximately from the beginning of the 15th century until the middle of the 17th century in European history. In this period which extensive overseas exploration, led by the Portuguese, emerged as a powerful factor in European culture, most notably the European rediscovery of the Americas. It also marks an increased adoption of colonialism as a national policy in Europe. Several lands previously unknown to Europeans were discovered by them during this period, though most were already inhabited. European exploration outside the Mediterranean started with the Portuguese discoveries of the Atlantic archipelagos of Madeira and Azores in 1419 and 1427 respectively, then the coast of West Africa after 1434 until the establishment of the sea route to India in 1498 by Vasco da Gama.
6. The Sierra de la Plata (“Silver Mountains”) was a mythical source of silver in the interior of South America. The legend began in the early 16th century when castaways from the Juan Díaz de Solís expedition heard indigenous stories of a mountain of silver in an inland region ruled by the so-called White King. The first European to lead an expedition in search of it was the castaway Aleixo Garcia, who crossed nearly the entire continent to reach the Andean altiplano. On his way back to the coast, Garcia died in an ambush by indigenous tribespeople in Paraguay, but survivors brought precious metals back to corroborate their story.

February 14. At one point they introduced themselves as internationally renowned leprosy experts to a local newspaper, which wrote a glowing story about them. The travelers later used the press clipping as a way to score meals and other favors with locals along the way.

19. In reference to his experience in Chile, Guevara also writes: "The most important effort that needs to be done is to get rid of the uncomfortable 'Yankee-friend'. It is especially at this moment an immense task, because of the great amount of dollars they have invested here and the convenience of using economical pressure whenever they believe their interests are being threatened."
20. Nahuel Huapi Lake (Lago Nahuel Huapi) is a lake in the lake region of northern Patagonia between the provinces of Río Negro and Neuquén, in Argentina. The tourist center of Bariloche is on the southern shore of the lake. The June 2011 eruption of the Puyehue-Cordón Caulle volcanic complex, in neighboring Chile, caused parts of the lake's surface to be blanketed in volcanic ash.
21. The Mapuche- are a group of indigenous inhabitants of present-day south-central Chile and southwestern Argentina, including parts of present-day Patagonia. The collective term refers to a wide-ranging ethnicity composed of various groups who shared a common social, religious, and economic structure, as well as a common linguistic heritage as Mapudungun speakers. Their influence once extended from Aconcagua Valley to Chiloé Archipelago and later spread eastward to Puelmapu, a land comprising part of the Argentine pampa and Patagonia. Today the collective group makes up over 80% of the indigenous peoples in Chile, and about 9% of the total Chilean population. The Mapuche are particularly concentrated in the Araucanía region. Many have migrated from rural areas to the cities of Santiago and Buenos Aires for economic opportunities.
22. Shortly before dawn, we came across a couple of drunks and did our brilliant "anniversary" routine. It goes like this: (1) One of us says something in a loud voice immediately identifying us as Argentine, something with a che in it and other typical expressions and pronunciation. The victim asks where we're from and we strike up a conversation. (2) We begin our tale of woe but don't make too much of it. (3) Then I butt in and ask what the date is. Someone says it and Alberto sighs and says: "What a coincidence, it was exactly a year ago." The victim asks what was a year ago, and we reply that that was when we started out on our trip. (4) Alberto then heaves a tremendous sigh and says, "Shame we're in such dire straits, we won't be able to celebrate." The victim immediately offers to pay, we pretend to refuse for a while saying we can't possibly pay him back, etc, then finally we accept. (5) After the first drink, I adamantly refuse another and Alberto makes fun of me. Our host gets annoyed and insists, I keep refusing but I won't say why. The victim keeps asking until I confess, rather shamefacedly, that in Argentina it's the custom to eat when we drink. Just how much we eat depends on what we think we can get away with, but the technique never fails.
23. Canasta (Spanish for "basket") is a card game of the rummy family of games believed to be a variant of 500 Rum. Although many variations exist for two, three, five or six players, it is most commonly played by four in two partnerships with two standard decks of cards. Players attempt to make melds of seven cards of the same rank and "go out" by playing all cards in their hand. It is "the most recent card game to have achieved worldwide status as a classic". The game of Canasta was devised by Segundo Santos and Alberto Serrato in Montevideo, Uruguay, in 1939. In the 1940s the game quickly spread in myriad variations to Chile, Peru, Brazil and Argentina, where its rules were further refined before being introduced to the United States in 1949 by Josefina Artayeta de Viel (New York), where it was then referred to as the Argentine Rummy game by Ottilie H. Reilly in 1949 and Michael Scully of Coronet magazine in 1953, In 1949/51 the New York Regency Club wrote the Official Canasta Laws, which were published together with game experts from South America by the National Canasta Laws Commissions of the USA and Argentina.
24. Chuquicamata is the largest open pit copper mine by excavated volume in the world. It is located in the north of Chile, just outside Calama at 2,850 m (9,350 ft) above sea level, 215 km (134 mi) northeast of Antofagasta and 1,240 km (770 mi) north of the capital, Santiago. It is the second deepest open-pit mine in the world after Bingham Canyon Mine in Utah, United States.

included in the agreement as well. When all offensive missiles and the Ilyushin Il-28 light bombers had been withdrawn from Cuba, the blockade was formally ended on November 20, 1962. The negotiations between the United States and the Soviet Union pointed out the necessity of a quick, clear, and direct communication line between the two Superpowers. As a result, the Moscow–Washington hotline was established. A series of agreements later reduced US–Soviet tensions for several years until both parties eventually resumed expanding their nuclear arsenals.

62. Jorge José Ricardo Masetti Blanco (31 May 1929 – ?), also known as “Commander Segundo”, was an Argentinean journalist and guerrilla leader. Born in Avellaneda, Masetti entered the jungle at Salta and after 21 April 1964 was not heard from again. He was the founder and the first director of the Cuban news agency Prensa Latina, and became the leader of one of Argentina’s first guerrilla organizations, the Guevarist People’s Guerrilla Army.
63. “Hasta Siempre, Comandante,” (“Until Forever, Commander” in English) or simply “Hasta Siempre,” is a 1965 song by Cuban composer Carlos Puebla. The song’s lyrics are a reply to revolutionary Che Guevara’s farewell letter when he left Cuba, in order to foster revolution in the Congo and later Bolivia, where he was captured and killed. The lyrics recount key moments of the Cuban Revolution, describing Che Guevara and his role as a revolutionary commander. The song became iconic after Guevara’s death, and many left-leaning artists did their own cover versions of the song afterwards. The title is a part of Guevara’s well known saying “¡Hasta la victoria siempre!” (“Until victory, always!”).
64. Che wrote a letter to Fidel Castro- Congo, 5/10/65- Dear Fidel- I received your letter, which has aroused contradictory feelings in me - for in the name of proletarian internationalism, we are committing mistakes that may prove very costly. I am also personally worried that, either because I have failed to write with sufficient seriousness or because you do not fully understand me, I may be thought to be suffering from the terrible disease of groundless pessimism. When your Greek gift [Emilio Aragones, a member of the Cuban central committee] arrived here, he told me that one of my letters had given the impression of a condemned gladiator, and the [Cuban health] minister [Jose Ramon Machado Ventura], in passing on your optimistic message, confirmed the opinion that you were forming.
65. Three days after his arrival in Bolivia, Guevara left La Paz for the rural south east region of the country to form his guerrilla army. Guevara’s first base camp was located in the montane dry forest in the remote Ñancahuazú region. Training at the camp in the Ñancahuazú valley proved to be hazardous, and little was accomplished in way of building a guerrilla army. The Argentine-born East German operative Haydée Tamara Bunke Bider, better known by her nom de guerre “Tania”, had been installed as Che’s primary agent in La Paz. Guevara’s guerrilla force, numbering about 50 men and operating as the ELN (Ejército de Liberación Nacional de Bolivia, “National Liberation Army of Bolivia”), was well equipped and scored a number of early successes against Bolivian army regulars in the difficult terrain of the mountainous Camiri region during the early months of 1967. As a result of Guevara’s units’ winning several skirmishes against Bolivian troops in the spring and summer of 1967, the Bolivian government began to overestimate the true size of the guerrilla force.
66. Félix Rodríguez, a Cuban exile turned CIA Special Activities Division operative, advised Bolivian troops during the hunt for Guevara in Bolivia. In addition, the 2007 documentary My Enemy’s Enemy alleges that Nazi war criminal Klaus Barbie advised and possibly helped the CIA orchestrate Guevara’s eventual capture. On 7 October 1967, an informant apprised the Bolivian Special Forces of the location of Guevara’s guerrilla encampment in the Yuro ravine. On the morning of 8 October, they encircled the area with two companies numbering 180 soldiers and advanced into the ravine triggering a battle where Guevara was wounded and taken prisoner while leading a detachment with Simeón Cuba Sarabia. Che’s biographer Jon Lee Anderson reports Bolivian Sergeant Bernardino Huanca’s account: that as the Bolivian Rangers approached, a twice-wounded Guevara, his gun rendered useless, threw up his arms in surrender and shouted to the soldiers: “Do not shoot! I am Che Guevara and I am worth more to you alive than dead most important revolutionary ambition was to see man liberated from his alienation". Guevara's paradoxical standing is further complicated by his array of seemingly diametrically opposed qualities. A secular humanist and sympathetic practitioner of medicine who did not hesitate to shoot his enemies, a celebrated internationalist leader who advocated violence to enforce a utopian philosophy of the collective good, an idealistic intellectual who loved literature but refused to allow dissent, an anti-imperialist Marxist insurgent who was radically willing to forge a poverty-less new world on the apocalyptic ashes of the old one, and finally, an outspoken anti-capitalist whose image has been commoditized. Che's history continues to be rewritten and re-imagined. Moreover, sociologist Michael Löwy contends that the many facets of Guevara's life (i.e. doctor and economist, revolutionary and banker, military theoretician and ambassador, deep thinker and political agitator) illuminated the rise of the "Che myth", allowing him to be invariably crystallized in his many metanarrative roles as a "Red Robin Hood, Don Quixote of communism, new Garibaldi, Marxist Saint Just, Cid Campeador of the Wretched of the Earth, Sir Galahad of the beggars ... and Bolshevik devil who haunts the dreams of the rich, kindling braziers of subversion all over the world"

3. La Higuera - Spanish for 'The Fig Tree' is a small village in Bolivia located in the Province of Vallegrande, in the Department of Santa Cruz. It is situated in the La Higuera Canton (civil parish) belonging to the Pucar Municipalidad.
4. Ernesto Guevara was born to Ernesto Guevara Lynch and Celia de la Serna y Llosa, on 14 June 1928, in Rosario, Argentina. He was the eldest of five children in an upper-class Argentine family of Spanish (including Basque, Cantabrian) and Irish descent by the ancestor of his mother, Patrick Lynch. Through his father, he was a descendant of Luis Mar Peralta, an early 19th century Mayor of San Jose, California and prominent landowner in the Bay Area. Although Guevara's legal name on his birth certificate was "Ernesto Guevara", his name sometimes appears with "de la Serna" and/or "Lynch" accompanying it. Referring to Che's "restless" nature, his father declared "the first thing to note is that in my son's veins flowed the blood of the Irish rebels"
5. Nelson Mandela referred to him as "an inspiration for every human being who loves freedom", while Jean-Paul Sartre described him as "not only an intellectual but also the most complete human being of our age". Others who have expressed their admiration include authors Graham Greene, who remarked that Guevara "represented the idea of gallantry, chivalry, and adventure", and Susan Sontag, who supposed that "[Che's] goal was nothing less than the cause of humanity itself." In the Pan-African community philosopher Frantz Fanon professed Guevara to be "the world symbol of the possibilities of one man", while Black Power leader Stokely Carmichael eulogized that "Che Guevara is not dead, his ideas are with us." Praise has been reflected throughout the political spectrum, with libertarian theorist Murray Rothbard extolling Guevara as a "heroic figure" who "more than any man of our epoch or even of our century, was the living embodiment of the principle of revolution", while journalist Christopher Hitchens reminisced that "[Che's] death meant a lot to me and countless like me at the time, he was a role model, albeit an impossible one for us bourgeois romantics insofar as he went and did what revolutionaries were meant to do—fought and died for his beliefs.
6. The term happiness is used in the context of mental or emotional states, including positive or pleasant emotions ranging from contentment to intense joy. It is also used in the context of life satisfaction, subjective well-being, eudaimonia, flourishing and well-being. Since the 1960s, happiness research has been conducted in a wide variety of scientific disciplines, including gerontology, social psychology and positive psychology, clinical and medical research and happiness economics.
